

Citrus Industry Magazine- UF/IFAS SWFREC Citrus Mechanical Harvesting Program “What’s Shakin” column

September 2007

If you haven’t visited the IFAS Citrus Mechanical Harvesting Website (<http://citrusMH.ifas.ufl.edu>) lately you are missing new vital information. The program sections have been updated to show what each program has accomplished this year and the goals for the upcoming year. For example, you can read about research trials that have been done with abscission as well as what was accomplished with the yield monitoring systems.

Take the time to also visit the history section and look at the new videos that have been incorporated. There is narration to each so you can understand what you are watching.
