Updates:

The Mechanical Harvesting Field Day on April 22nd at the Southwest Research and Education Center highlighted emerging citrus production and harvesting technologies being researched by IFAS scientists. Check out the citrus mechanically harvesting website (<http://citrusMH.ifas.ufl.edu>) for videos of the field day and power points of the presentations. The IFAS Citrus Mechanical Harvesting website has been remodeled and two new pages have been added: Food Safety and Harvest Trash. Several new publications on tree safety and abscission have been added as well for you to view and print.
